

Viewpoint - Denver's Transit System Getting an Admiring Look from Las Vegas

Mar 03, 2016

Brownstein shareholders, Rebecca Miltenberger and Carolynne White are leading the Southern Nevada Regional Transportation Commission (RTC) and nearly 50 business and community leaders from Southern Nevada who are visiting Denver to explore our city's growing light rail and commuter rail systems and the economic development spurred by investments in transportation.

RTC will tour Denver's current transportation options as well as take a sneak peek at future innovative projects in development as examples of our city's continued investment in smart transit.

Click on above pdf to read entire article published in the Denver Business Journal.

---

Meet The Team

---

|                         |             |                |                        |
|-------------------------|-------------|----------------|------------------------|
| Rebecca L. Miltenberger | Shareholder | T 702.464.7052 | rmiltenberger@bhfs.com |
| Carolynne C. White      | Shareholder | T 303.223.1197 | cwhite@bhfs.com        |

---

Related Practices

- Real Estate