Client Alert

Brownstein Client Alert, September 28, 2016

National press and various legal publications have undertaken reporting on rapid developments involving New Jersey's Truth in Consumer Contract, Warranty and Notice Act ("TCCWNA"), a previously overlooked consumer protection statute that has prompted dozens of class action lawsuits in 2016 alone. The statute has become a focal point for plaintiffs' lawyers because the breadth of its language arguably covers the conduct of countless national companies who only tangentially interact with New Jersey consumers, for instance, by offering products for sale online.
