

Politics, 2018 Midterm Elections

After That Thorough Rout, Democrats Have All the Power and All the Responsibility

Nov 23, 2018

Article

Author, The Denver Post, November 23, 2018

Having decimated the Colorado Republican party in the midterm elections, Democrats are now firmly in control of every branch of state government. They don't need a single Republican to accomplish their goals, and Republicans can't pass a single bill without significant help from the Democrats.

However, just because they can pass any legislation they choose, does not mean that they should.

Click here to read the entire article, published in The Denver Post.

Meet The Team

Douglas J. Friednash

Shareholder

T 303.223.1221

dfriednash@bhfs.com

Related Practices

- Government Relations