

Brownstein Announces Mid-Year Federal Lobbying Revenue

Jul 20, 2011

Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck saw growth in its federal lobbying practice during the second quarter, reporting mid-year revenues of $10,675,000.

"We're pleased to report growth in our federal lobbying revenue over the previous quarter. We remain active in the most pressing issues today, from health care to financial services and tax to telecommunications," said Al Mottur, managing partner of Brownstein's Washington, D.C. office. "In addition, we've brought great talent to the firm this year and are confident we'll add to our continued success."

Brownstein's 2011 second quarter revenue of $5,420,000 is up over the firm's federal lobbying revenue of $5,255,000 in the first quarter.

The numbers for the second quarter of 2011 were filed on July 20 as part of the quarterly filing requirements under the federal Lobbying Disclosure Act.
