

Client Johns Manville teams with Colorado Governor's Energy Office

Feb 05, 2008

Our client, Colorado-based Johns Manville, a leading manufacturer and marketer of premium-quality building and specialty products, has agreed to donate the insulation for the new space which will house the Governor's Energy Office as part of Governor Ritter's (D-CO) "Greening Government" plan. Johns Manville manufactures Formaldehyde-free™ fiber glass building insulation which results in improved indoor air quality for building occupants and installers. In addition, the insulation uses an average of 25 percent recycled content, 80 percent of which is post-consumer recycled glass from curbside recycling programs.

We congratulate our client in its participation in such an important initiative—the greening of Colorado.

Related Practices

- Energy
- Energy