Companies Should Be Aware of Misleading Trademark Renewal Notices

Aug 09, 2018

Client Alert

Brownstein Client Alert, August 9, 2018

Federal trademark registrations are an extremely valuable asset to any company's intellectual property portfolio. With an emerging trend of private companies sending misleading trademark renewal notices that appear official but are inaccurate or incomplete and solicit more funds than necessary for renewal, any business with federal trademark registrations needs to be aware to protect its assets.
