

Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck Announces Its Federal Lobbying Revenues

Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck reports $6,790,000 for its first-quarter 2016 federal lobbying revenues. This represents a 17 percent increase over the first quarter of 2015 and the firm's strongest first quarter since it was founded.

“We had eight new registrations this quarter and saw continued interest from clients in areas like healthcare, financial services, tax reform and cyber security,” said Marc Lampkin, managing partner of Brownstein’s Washington, D.C., office. “Despite it being an election year, we expect to continue seeing an increase over last year’s revenue.”

The numbers for the first quarter of 2016 will be filed on April 20 as part of the quarterly filing requirements under the federal Lobbying Disclosure Act.

Related Practices

- Government Relations