Wrapping up Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck's April clothing drive, the firm partnered with Dress for Success's Southern Nevada Chapter to give two Dress for Success clients complimentary makeover transformations.

Christie Moeller, professional fashion stylist, and Barbra Jo Batterman, professional make-up artist, used clothing donated by staff and attorneys to showcase the type of transformations clients receive from Dress for Success to prepare them for an interview.

The firm-wide drive across our 11 offices amassed more than a ton of clothing, shoes and accessories for women in need of Dress for Success's services. The Las Vegas office collected 40 belts, 25 scarves, 30 purses, 50 pairs of shoes, 100 pieces of jewelry and 1,100 items of clothing.

Dress for Success will use the items to empower women to achieve economic independence by providing them with the tools they need to thrive in work and in life.

Associate Emily Ellis, who chairs the firm's Las Vegas Karma Committee, talked about why Dress for Success's mission was so important to firm and WLI at the event. Dress for Success Southern Nevada Executive Director Paula Lawrence gave attendees an overview of the work that they do for women in need throughout southern Nevada.
