A trusted advisor, Mike King has mediated over 50 cases where he brings the lessons learned as a creative problem-solver to help parties find solutions to hard problems.

Throughout his career, clients often turn to Mike for guidance on strategy and problem solving in the most intractable situations. Mike He frequently serves as a bridge between executive leadership, the operations teams, the board, and shareholders. Mike has brought this same experience finding common ground to help adverse parties resolve disputes in over 50 federal court cases. Mike facilitates solutions proactively, bringing his strategic business and legal backgrounds to identify and expand opportunities to create value for all participants.

In his practice, he has served as an outside general counsel resource guiding organizations through their most significant moments, counseling dozens of management teams and boards on strategy, corporate governance, and dispute resolution. Advising clients ranging from mid-sized, growth oriented businesses to public companies for almost three decades, Mike advises on both sides of a full spectrum of legal matters, including buy- and sell-side mergers and acquisitions, sponsors and managers in joint ventures, lenders and borrowers in sophisticated financings, issuers and investors in securities offerings, licensors and licensees of intellectual property, employers and executives in employment matters, companies and counterparties in restructurings and workouts, and resolving disputes that arise in all of these areas, bringing a multifaceted understanding of the issues most important to his clients. He combines his business understanding with significant legal experience to achieve strategic outcomes, while navigating the compliance environment in highly regulated industries.
