Renewable Energy Speaker Series

Mapping a New Energy Strategy for the West

Join us for a look into what the future holds for renewable energy development in the western U.S. and how the region can continue to lead the new energy economy.

Keynote speakers:

Bob Noun
Director, External Affairs
National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL)

Jeffery M. Baker
Director, Office of Laboratory Operations
United States Department of Energy

We will address:

- The impact of federal and state policy initiatives, including the stimulus package, on NREL and Colorado renewable energy projects
- What the challenges facing new energy development are and how these challenges will be overcome
- How to be a part of the conversation and the development of these projects now and in the future
